

Hauling Gear Blog Alaska Commercial Fishing News

Controversial KSM mine gets key permits

Kerr Sulphurets Mitchell, a British Columbia mine in the transboundary Unuk River watershed that concerns many Southeast Alaska fishermen, Native organizations, tourism and environmental groups, has received early construction permits from the British Columbian government. “I think people are feeling not just a sense of urgency, and being threatened, but [...]

Thu, Oct 23, 2014

Source: National Fisherman Web Clippings (Lower 48 Comfish)